Dear Hiring Team,

I'm excited to apply for the Marketing, Brand and Communications Specialist position with the Humane Society of Western Montana. The opportunity to bring together my background in media arts and design with my passion for animals, environmental stewardship, and advocacy is especially meaningful to me. I want to use my creative skills to support the work I believe in and help organizations make a tangible difference in their communities.

I graduated magna cum laude from the University of Montana with a degree in Media Arts and a certificates in Graphic and Digital UX/UI Design. Throughout my education, I spent years studying visual communication, design, and the creative process, developing a foundation I'm eager to put to work in a mission-driven setting. While my professional experience has primarily been in banking, my career path reflects the reality of working my way through college while attending school full time. I began working as a bank teller to support myself during my studies, and I've continued building my professional experience while staying connected to the creative work I studied and love.

My banking experience has taught me how to communicate clearly, manage competing priorities, pay attention to detail, and build trust with people from different backgrounds. My involvement in community advocacy and the University of Montana's Gender Equity Resource Center has also shaped how I approach meaningful work. I value communication that helps people feel informed, included, and inspired to get involved. I would bring that same thoughtfulness to creating content and materials that help the Humane Society connect with its community.

Animals, the environment, and advocacy are causes I care deeply about, and the opportunity to contribute to an organization that reflects those values is one I would take seriously. I would bring a creative perspective, a strong foundation in design, a willingness to learn, and the care and reliability I have developed through my professional experience. I'm excited by the possibility of growing my career in a role where my skills and personal values can work together.

Thank you for considering my application. I would welcome the opportunity to contribute to the Humane Society of Western Montana's mission and help communicate the impact of its work throughout the community.

Sincerely,

Mya Stenson
